Robots will change our life in the future, I think. They will help us a lot. If we don't like going to school, we can stay at home and put the teaching information into the computers, and then robots can work as teachers. If we have our own robots, we will have changes. We won't need to care about the homework at all. We won't need to worry about whether we'll have friends or not, either, because robots can play with us. If we are not happy, they will dance and make us happy. How greatly robots will change our life.
